Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L., Jr.

The battleship, ex-ruler of the sea, seems likely to appear in somewhat sublimated form in the air and on the land. The 70-ton naval bomber, Mars, is a real battleship of the air, and now R. G. Letourneaux, builder of earth moving equipment, proposes a 200-ton tank which would be a true land battleship.

Concepts as mammoth as these stagger even the most flexible imagination. Yet the truth is that enormous tanks and airships may in a few years seem commonplace by comparison with more astonishing developments made by the hot alchemy of war-time energy and modern science.

The two-hundred ton land battleship, or tank, proposed by R. G. Letourneaux could be built, he says, on the chassis of his biggest piece of earth moving machinery and driven by the power unit which he has in use on this gigantic tractor. The tractor and carry-all combination can pick up 90 tons of mother earth and carry it over rough terrain at 20 miles an hour. The carry-all is mounted on tires nine feet high and three feet wide.

A tank constructed on the foundation of Letrourneaux's big tractor would, according to him, be able to carry artillery heavy eough to blast anything now on tank treads right off the face of the earth. It would have sufficient speed to make a quick get away in case its terrific firing power did not disable the enemy.

While it has been obvious for a long time that winning of the war is going to be done primarily from the air, it is also true that complete victory must include the domination of land by ground forces. In other words, the opponent may be laid low by punches delivered from the air, but unless he is conquered on the ground also, he may get up again and organize for new offensives.

Thus Letourneaux's idea carries weight in more ways than one. His plan for 200-ton land battleships, if developed with sufficient speed, may catch the Nazis with its superior armament and fire power at about the same time huge fleets of big U. S. bombers begin to swing the air power balance to our side. And at the same time the Hun may be weakened by the increased mobility which our forces can develop through the use of Kaiser's proposed 100-ton air transports.

It is a great satisfaction to Americans at this time to have revealed to them the mental power and imagination of men like Hrnry J. Kaiser and R. G. Letourneaux . These men and their works are products of the American system. Their work and the work of other men like them, multiplied many times over, will be one of the deciding factors on our winning the war. Thus our eventual victory will not prove that we are a better race than the races we fight (for we are not a race ethnologicly speaking, and we are not better.) It will prove what is much more important—that we have the best system by which to live that the world has yet seen.

Blackout Regulations In Tahoe Forest Lifted

Fire Control assistant Marc W. Edmonds of the Tahoe National Forest announces that recent blackout regulations affecting sawmills, other industrial plants, and campfires within the boudaries of the Tahoe National Forest have been lifted. Edmonds says that a recent change made in the boundaries of this zone by the Western Defense Command places the Tahoe National Forest entirely outside of the blackout zone. Campfire permits, burning permits and blasting permits will be required as in the past.

Caught in the Riffles

A newspaper bows to the demands of its readers. So this week finds the return of Caught in the Riffles, missing from its place the last couple of issues.

To tell the truth we hadn't planned to resume Riffles until the return of the boss, who is recovering from an operation, because of the fear something in this column might cause a relapse in his condition.

But the wishes of the readers come first and besides the boss' condition is improving so Riffles is back in the paper.

Game Warden Earl Hiscox was in the Bowman country yesterday, calmly surveying the scene with his binoculars. He saw John Tognarelli, guard at Bowman and in the distance in back of Tognarelli he saw a strange man, apparently making his way toward Tognarelli.

Hiscox jumped into action and shortly thereafter had the stranger in custody. The man gave his name as John Saboleski, 34, when booked at the county jail. The game warden said he had no fishing or camping equipment and gave no reason for his wandering in that district, which is under war time restrictions from civilians.

City Clerk Everett Leroy Deward of Grass Valley has filed a suit for divorce from Alma Lee Deward, charging evtreme cruelty. Another divorce action was commenced in the superior court Saturday when Phyllis Enright filed a suit against John Francis Enright.

County Auditor R. N. McCormack announced the tax rate this year will be $1.60 per $100 valuation, the same as last year. The preliminary county budgets are now available to the taxpayers at McCormack's office in the courthouse. The budget calls for the general county business expenditure of $579,248 during the 1942-43 fiscal year.

Robert Paine, three months after he made application, has been notified he has passed all examinations for officers training in the United States Army. It may be several months more, though, before Paine will be called. Ever since the war started it has been Paine's ambition to get into the army. Dan Ungaro, who is abandoning his career as a schoolteacher for the duration of the war, is also destined to enter officers training school.

The final day of business here for Dick Lane will be Augus 15th. Si Sofge loves fishing so much the little matter of a crushed oil pan on the Bowman road didn't bother him a bit. All Si worries about is the catching of the fish and according to him he got plenty during his last sojourn with Roy Nelson into the Bowman country. By the way, Dick Lane had to travel all the way to Bowman to weld the break in the Sofge car auto pan. City Clerk George Calanan was about to post a batch of letters in the old post offiice when Eleanor Vanberg halted him with a "Hey,' what do you think you are doing?" Many continue to have difficulty opening their combination po boxes. One boxholder announces the next time he goes after his mail he is going to bring a hammer.

WSCS WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

A meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist Church will meet Wednesday at 11 a. m. Following the business meeting luncheon will be served by the Friendship Circle at 12:30. During the afternoon a fine program will be presented and all members are urged to attend.

Home Wedding Unites Popular Nevada Cityans

The wedding of Virginia Gold Blackwood and Robert Kellog Graham was solemnized at a candlelight service in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham on Alexander Street.

The service took place before a beautifully decorated fireplace. Rev. Cedric Porter of the Episcopal Church performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Carney. Mrs. Margaret Steger acted as the motron of honor and Miss Alice Graham, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. John Graham, brother of the groom was the best man.

For the wedding the bride was attractively attired in a suit of biege gray with plum accessories and she wore an orchid corsage.

The fireplace and living room at the Graham home was decorated with pink and white gladioli and ferns. Mrs. Carney supervised the decorating.

Before her departure for Berkeley several months ago to live with her parents, Virginia was one of the most popular younger residents of the community. She had been employed at Colley's Confectionery.

While living in the bay area she was employed at the Anglo Bank in San Francisco. Virginia attended the Nevada City elementary and high schools.

Graham, employed as a welder in the hipyards at Vallejo, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham. The bridegroom is also a graduate of the Nevada City schools.

Following the wedding a reception was held with the bride and groom cutting the first piece of a beautiful wedding cake. The couple left for a week's honeymoon trip following the reception.

H. F. SOFGE REAPPOINTED MEMBER OF STATE CHAMBER HIGHWAY COMMITTEE

Howard Reemer, chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee, has notified H. F. Sofge, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, that the local man has been reappointed a member of the committee. Sofge will attend a meeting of the committee in Chico next Friday. At that time he will attempt to find out the status of the Bear Valley bottleneck project for which $10,000 was appropriated by the highway commission months ago.

Aged Gold Flat Man Shoots Son In Law Following Argument

Ralph R. McCumber, 58, Gold Flat resident, is in a critical condition in the county hospital here today from a bullet wound inflicted, the officers discovered, by his father in law, Charles McFarland, 73.

McFarland is being held in the county jail here on an open charge pending the outcome of McCumber's injury.

The shooting was investigated by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen and Deputy Sheriffs Carl T. Larsen and Willard O'Hara.

According to the story pieced together by the officers, McCumber and McFarland had been drinking and at about 8:30 Saturday night were returning to the McCumber home in Gold Flat in a car operated by McCumber.

It appears McFarland did not like the erratic way his son in law was driving and sought to take the wheel. Instead, McCumber stopped the car and a fight developed with the elder man suffering cuts and bruises.

When the pair arrived home, McFarland got out of the car and made his wa to his cabin, which is located in the rear of the McCumber home.

A son, Robert J. McFarland, happened to be at the McCumber home at the time. McCumber told him:

"He's going to shoot me."

Shortly thereafter McFraland returned with the gun, a .22 caliber rifle. Robert sought to take the gun away from his father but the elderly man ordered his son to stay out of the way or he may get shot also. It was then that McFarlend took aim and fired the .22 caliber bullet into the chest of his son in law.

After receiving the bullet in his chest McCumber walked forward to the aged man and grasped him around the neck before he slumped to the ground. The younger McFarland took the gun away from his father.

McCumber was then taken to the county hospital. McFarland was not home when the officers arrived. He was found a short time later, however, near the Rector residence while enroute to the county hospital.

Sheriff Tobiassen is continuing his investigation and said a murder charge will probably be filed against McCumber if McCumber dies.

Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Porter and children left yesterday for a two weeks vacation at Lake Tahoe.

FIRE FIGHTERS CONTROL FIRE ON DEER CREEK

A half acre of rimbet slashings burned in a fire at Scotts Flat Friday night.

Prompt action by the White Cloud fire crew, led by Clarence Martz, a crew from William Sharp's camp near Nevada City and a crew headed by Assistant Ranger O'Neill at North Bloomfield prevented the flames from reaching major proportions.

A group of the White Cloud fire fighters were at the Nevada Theatre when the fire started and were called to the fire line 30 minutes after they entered the show. The were enjoying their first night off in days.

In fighting the fire the fire fighters were forced to cross Deer Creek twice. They returned to their respective camps at 2 a. m. Saturday.

Yesterday Clarence Martz' crew were dispatched to Dutch Flat to fight a fire in that area.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

(By John W. Dunlap, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Less than a month remains before the August primary and it is very evident that no one is getting very excited.

Most of the contests are pretty well cut and dried and the real competition will come in November. Chief of these will put Republican Earl Warren and Democratic Incumbent Culbert Olson for the governorship.

But there are certain district contests where the fur will fly for the nominations, particularly for congress. By and large, the incumbent will always go back into office, such as the 18 out of 20 victories of office holders two years ago (Confressman Frank Havener of San Francisco was the only incumbent to lose out).

The approach of war and the voting records of certain isolationists has put a different tinge on some congressional races, however. And one of the major battles is taking place in a district which ordinarily wouldn't even scare up an opponent for veteran Harry Englebright of Nevada City.

Republican Englebright has worked up to the post of Republican whip and is a potent power in Washington. He has nine terms behind him and was considered unbeatable because no one could effectually stump against him in a sprawling district covering one-third of the state—the counties of Siskiyou, Modoc, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Tehoma, Plumas, Sierra, Nevada. El Dorado, Amador, Inyo, Calaveras, Alpine, Tuolumne, Mariposa and Mono.

Such a district covers 51,850 square miles, bigger than New York state or Pennsylvania. The district has 218,000 residents but they are well scattered from the Oregon line down the rugged Sierra to Los Angeles county. Any incumbent would have a tremendous advantage because his name would be well known. Year after year he has had no opposition.

But Republican Englebright has reason to worry in 1942. Three candidates came out against him, none of them lightweights.

One was Frank G. Finnegan, a lawyer from Englebright's home town of Nevada City. He filed on both major party tickets.

Then there was Mrs. Gertrude V. Clark of Sutter Creek, prominent club woman and seasoned campaigned. She confined herself to the Democratic ticket.

The other was R. R. Henderson, 39-year-old lumber operator from Lone Pine, the Inyo county hamlet not far from the Japanese internment center at Manzanar. Henderson filed on both major tickets and set out to really cover the district. His lumber truck drivers and yard men volunteered to help write campaign letters. Henderson gambled on getting a $10,000 a year job while losing $6,000 of his own money and a $13,000 per year income from his lumber business.

Englebright will be tough to beat, despite the fact he voted against many of the administrations pre-war preparation measures prior to Pearl Harbor. He has been taking care of his district on a multitude f issues and has well-grounded support in every county. His three opponents may split the Democratic vote sufficiently for him to capture it as well as his own Republican bid. He also has filed on the Townsend ticket, but under California law, must win his own party nomination to be eligible for the November finals.

Englebright's prominence has brought national attention to this contest of the sagebrush and mining camps. Even Time magazine gave it a spread. It should be a lulu.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY RIGHTS

California and other community property states are again confronted with the necessity of defending a century old principle of law, under which married women are given equal recognition in ownership of property of the marital community, Sidney M. Ehrman, chairman of the Statewide Tax Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce, declared in a statement issued today.

As passed by the House of Representatives, the new Federal Revenue bill did not contain any provision requiring husbands and wives to file joint income tax returns. However according to advices received from Washington the Senate Finance Committee has decided to re-open this question. Ehrman stated, and has set hearings on the poposal for next Tuesday, August 11.

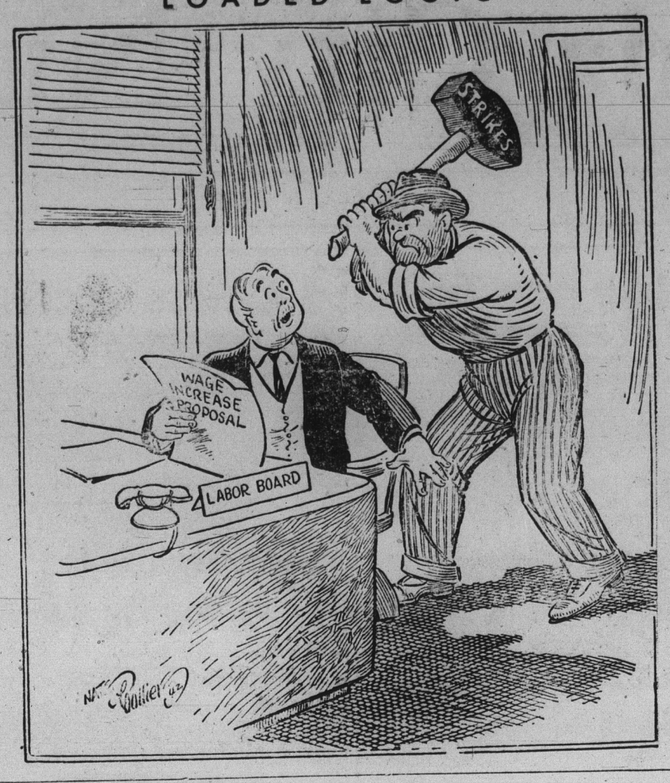
"The American people," Ehrman said, "will bear unflinchingly the tax burden made necessary by the war, but they will be reluctant to accept any tax proposal that is discriminatory, or that infringes upon established rights.

"If the object of this legislation is to eliminate the so-called inequality between those states having community property laws and those not having such laws, there is nothing to prevent the federal government from doing this by authorizing, in all states, for income tax purposes, the division of income earned by husbands and wives. Moreover, other states have always been privileged to adopt community property laws. And in those states where the husband owns all of the property of the marital community, there is nothing to prevent a husband from giving half of his property to his spouse, thus making it separate property belonging solely to her.

"The question of joint income tax returns, therefore, cannot be regarded solely as a loophole device, for it is not the final answer to the problem of tax equality. It involves constitutional questions upon which the courts have already affirmed the right of the states to define and regulate property ownership."

Urging that every Californian write or wire Senators Hiram Johnson and Sheridan Downey, Ehrman added that this proposed legislation involves a discriminatory attack against community property ownership that has no place in the federal tax picture.

LOADED LOGIC



NEWS IN RHYME

Over KJBS Daily at 12:30 P. M.
By Harley M. Leete, Jr.

Remember the President's proposal to make,
Twenty five grand the top annual take?
It was shelved for the moment, but now arises—
A many-lived cat as one expert surmises.
Above twenty five thousand, the money might go,
Into government bonds—'twould bring millions, we know
It would buy the things our services need,
Without socking the rich till they bruise and bleed.
About six billion, says Senator Brown,
On the barrel-head, would be put down.
The rich, although of cash divested,
Would know that they had well invested.
There's nothing rash or flibberty gibberty,
About investing money in permanent liberty.
Two and a half per cent as sure as you live,
Is what our U. S. War Bonds give.
Of course—with maximums net at twenty five grand,
We'll have to do without things we've planned.
As for us—we're going to dispose of our yacht,
And that string of polo nags we've got.
Instead of champagne—it's near beer now—
We've got to sell our champagne cow!
No more sheets of shining silk!
No more baths in creamy milk.
No more headlight diamond rings—
We must give up so many things;
And not another ten-buck shirt—
The war program's sure done us dirt!
Even our dog drank wine with his meals,
But now it's dog food plus what he steals;
Us poor rich folks, sad and weary,
Find life grow daily tough and dreary.
Our money'll be safe in bonds for war—
But we can't spend it any more!

CHEERFUL LETTERS TO BOYS IN SERVICE

Write cheerful letters to the boys in service, say American Red Cross workers who come into contact daily with the troubles faced by doughbos at home and abroad.

Burdening a soldier with petty family troubles, unduly alarming him over the illness of some loved one, or otherwise causing him unnecessary worry about the folks back home may break the soldier's morale, they say.

Songs For Soldiers Badly Needed Says U. C. Man

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—"It is reported that the American soldiers did not sing when they landed in Ireland, much to the surprise of the Irish," comments Ramond Moreman, lecturer in music at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

"Also, we do not hear as much of community singing as we did in the last war.

"Apparently we haven't discovered a great song yet, but I believe it will come when we visualize our ideals sufficiently above our hates. We've got to sing about something that's worth fighting for, and singing is important to morale. How will our spirits be right without unified expression in song?

"Audiences at Royce Hall on this campus have been roused to a high pitch by the simple, natural beauty o songs rendered by a Negro chorus, and by the fervor with which they were expressed. The audience seemed to be brought back to reality.

"Before this war is over our soldiers will be glad to fall back on some good tunes. As to what kind of music is wanted, this is anybody's guess. But we should remember that music which can be sung will live. It is the kind that has a hold on the people, not the kind that merely a few musicians like.

DEER TAGS

Surprisingly enough, by August 4th, 1,286 deer tags had been mailed to the office of the State Division of Fish and Game reporting deer bagged and to the same date last year only 1,044 tags had been turned in. The four highest counties of kill are: Mendocino with 295; Lake, 190; ....apa, 137; Humboldt, 104.

It is not expected that this high average will be maintained, but it is evident that hunting was good on the opening weekend of the season, and hunters were in the field.

We cannot afford to be halfway in anything. The whole hearted man is the one who succeeds in this world. —Mary E. Mizer.

ENGLEBRIGHT SPEAKER HERE

Congressman Harry L. Englebright spoke at the meeting in the National Hotel here yesterday of the California Hydraulic Mining Association.

Other guests of the association at the meeting were Colonel Warren Hannum and Colonel Robert C. Hunter of the California Debris Commission. Colfax was selected as the city for the next meeting, which will be held on September 13th.

Englebright, in his talk, predicted gold mining would enjoy a great era of prosperity following the war. He complimented the hydraulic association members on their drive to obtain at least 1,000 tons of scrap metal for the war effort.

TIRE BOARD WILL HAVE ACCESS TO NAMES OF THOSE WHO TRAVEL IN EXCESS OF 40 MILES

The Tire Rationing Board of Nevada County hereafter will be given access to the names of all persons who are stopped by Highway Patrolmen for driving at speeds above 40 miles per hour.

An announcement in Sacramento today by Patrol Chief E. R. Cato, said the record of each such citation is being placed in the file maintained by the Division of Drives Licenses showing the complete driving history of all persons holding licenses.

This information is available on request by the local rationing board. Its primary use will be to check the driving record of all persons applying for new tires or retreads.

The arrangement follows a statewide order, issued by Paul Barksdale d'Orr, State Rationing Officer, requiring all applicants for tires or retreads to sign a statement that they have not driven in excess of 40 miles per hour.

Chief Cato, a member of the State Highwa Traffic Advisory Committtee to the War Department, charged with administering the Eastman conservation plan in California, said citations have been issued at the approximate rate of 200 daily since the order to stop all persons traveling in excess of 40 miles per hour was issued by Governor Olson.

Captain Joseph Blake will cooperate to see that the in information reaches the local board when needed.

Deer Knocks Tahoe Forest Fire Patrolman To Ground

While patrolman T. M. Arntzen of the Tahoe National Forest was making one of his regular inspections of the old Bear Trap Guard Station he became aware of some peculiar noises in the old horse shed. Deciding to investigate he proceeded to the door of the shed where he was met half way in and half way out by a doe deer. As nature would have it, the weaker force would yield to the stronger, and Arntsen got a worm's eye view of the passing doe. Arntsen is nursing a bruised shoulder.

GRACE ENGLEBRIGHT SPEAKS AT GRASS VALLEY BPWC MEETING

Mrs. Grace Englebright, wife of Congressman Harry L. Englebright of the second district, urged the repeal of state laws which keep women from taking part in vital industr, when she spoke before the Grass Valley Business and Professional Women's club Thursday night.

Mrs. Englebright pointed out that some state laws prevent women from inheriting their husband's property except by will and that women cannot engage in business except under the husband's name.

Mrs. Englebright felt that once the proposed equal rights amendment is out of the judiciary committee, it will win the cceptance of congress.

Mrs. Clarence Lea, wife of Congressman Lea of Santa Rosa, gave a short address to the club, explaining the independent canteen in Washington which provides chocolate, coffee, sandwiches and cake to men manning the anti-aircraft guns.

SABOTEUR OPENS AT NEVADA HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Because Alfred Hitchcock believes that acting talent, like gold, is where you find it. Virgil Summers, 26 year old Universal studio "Grip," plays a featured role in Saboteur, which plays Wednesday and Thursday at the Nevada Theatre. Summers will be seen as the aircraft factory pal of Robert Cummings, who costars with Priscilla Lane in the picture.

When Jack H. Skirball(associate producer on Saboteur, asked Hitchcock what type of actor he wanted to characterize Kenneth Mason, the famous director looked about him and pointed to Summers.

"The part calls for someone who looks typically American," Hitchcock told Skirball, adding: "Someone who look like that head 'grip' over there!"

Then the ruddy and round Hitchcock countenance lighted up and he said as if talking to himself. "Why not?" Summers was set. Hitchcock believes he will go far as a thespian.

NEW RECORDS FOR OLD TO BRING MUSIC TO SOLDIERS

Joseph Day, Nevada City chairman of the American Legion project to collect old or broken or otherwise discarded phonograph records to be made into new records and to be sent to the boys in camp social halls. Ed Burtner is Grass Valley chairman.

Day states that priorities of some of the materials required in the making of new records prevent their production so the American Legion is collecting old records to be made into new ones. Fifty popular and noted artists are contributing their talent in making these new records.

Mr. Day asks that all who have discarded records to please leave them at his office 108 Pine Street, Nevada City and he will take them to the Grass Valley office from where they will be sent to the central collection office. One new record can give much pleasure to many soldier boys so do not forget to donate your old ones.

Mrs. C. E. Parsons, Mrs. George Legg and Mrs. Belle Douglass are visiting friends at Lake Alta today.

New Forest Service Pump Saves Large Transport Truck

According to Guerdon Ellis, Supervisor of the Tahoe national forest, the new forest fire pumper stationed on the Big Bend district recently saved more than its cost on one fire. A large transport truck and trailer belonging to Oregon - California Freight Lines caught fire near Kingsvale on U. S. Highway 40. Martin Johnson, resort owner, notified Big Bend Ranger Station and the fire pumper arrived in time to save about $4,000 worth of mechandise on the truck. E. W. Rhoads driver of the truck, kept the doors locked until the fire tanker arrived. The tanker kept the fire from spreading to the nearby forest and summer homes at Kingsvale.

STATE INVESTS IN BONDS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 10.— (UP) —According to State Finance Director George Killion and State Treasurer Charles Johnson, there is a cash surplus of $15,000,000 in the state treasury today not needed for immediate use.

Killion has been given authority to invest the new surplus in U. S. government bonds. Counting the new investment, Johnson said, the state now has nearly $30,000,000 invested in various federal bonds.

Hot tires today may mean hot feet tomorrow—Drive under 40!

The speed limit is now 40 but there still appears to be an awful lot of people going nowhere in an awful hurry.

Make your tires stretch for the duration and bring your country in on the home stretch!

Additional Canning Sugar Data Received By Board

The latest canning sugar information has been received by the local rationing board.

Each application will be considered individually with the object of conserving fruit as well as sugar. Individual consumer canning practices and available fruit supplies are to be considered and allowances as are not limited to any fruit crop. Neither fruit or sugar is to be wasted, the board has been informed and the formula of one pound of sugar to four quarts of fruit and one pound of sugar per person is again called to the attention of the consumers.

"Please bear with our seemingly nonsensiclal questioning," the board urges.

There is no set amount of sugar for any consumer. Extra sugar can be obtained at the City Hall after 2 o'clock of any day except Sunday, by consumers who wish to can large amounts of fruit.

For the next few months, California's forests will be subject to high fire hazard, declares the Outing Department of the National Automobile Club, which asks every citizen to take part in a campaign against fires. Fires caused by human carelessness can cause as much destrcution as enemy bombings or sabotage.

People used to say life begins at 40 but in these days of thin tires it's liable to end there for heavy footed tioning.

What California appears to need most is less gas about gasoline rationong.

PROPER CARE OF YOUR APPLIANCES WILL SAVE WEAR

Clean your appliances frequently so that they will always be ship-shape for tip-top service. Remember when dirt and dust wear in, your appliances wear out. For example, empty the dust bag of your vacuum cleaner after each sweeping; clean out the crumbs in your toaster; wash the interior of your refrigerator after each defrosting; remove the soap scum and lint from your washer immediately after use and remove the dust film from lamp shades and fixtures. Do these simple little things regularly and your appliances will do more and last longer.

PROPER USE WILL SAVE REPAIR

Unintentional abuse of appliances leads to unnecessary repair or break down. Avoid letting your cleaner chew up nails or coins or hairpins. Be careful not to drop or jar appliances with heating elements. Do not overwork your washer by using too much water or overloading with too many clothes. Cook by accurate time and temperature control. Be careful to keep room temperatures down to the comfort level.
